Truce Talks Deadlock

Y success will attend the combined efforts of the British and Indian governments to break the truce talks deadlock at Panmunjom provides question mark. The reluctwice-nt times outright refusal-of the Communists to consider or agree to compromise proposals which could resolve the current impasse, does not encourage the belief that where the negotiators on the anot have failed, third party intervention governmental level will rapidly succeed. The disheartening feature of the Panmunjom negotiations has been the obvious absence of good intentions on the part of the Reds. Moreover, by their adamant attitude to the crucial question of exchange of prisoners, they have put themselves in a position where they find it difficult to yield without "losing face." ### DELEGATES" "STOLEN VICTORIES

Chicago, July 8. Senator Robert Taft won a series of victories in the "stolen delegates" battle here today when the Credentials Committee of the Republican National Convention voted to seat 38 Taft delegates and two for General Dwight Eisenhower.

The actions, which exactly paralleled previous decisions by the Republican National Committee, came after the Committee voted 30-21 to reject the Georgia delegation favourable to Eisenhower.

The Credentials group then voted by voice to seat the pro-Taft Georgia group. It also voted to seat five pro-Taft delegates from Mississippi. Eisenhower was awarded one delegate each from Florida and Kansas and an uncommitted Florida delegate also was approved.

The Committee action on the dispute, which may have an important bearing on final selection of the nominee, overshadowed second-day convention developments.

Ike forces hope to reverse the Committee ruling and win up to 42 delegates. Ike picked up eight delegates in frenzied behind-scenes manoeuvring and Taft had the net loss of one during the day.

Legal Action Against Red Dean Sought In House Of Lords Query London, July 8. The Government will be asked in the House of Lords next week if any legal action can be taken against Dr Hewlett Johnson, the Dean of Canterbury, for alleged statements "reflecting on the conduct of British troops in Korea" made by him at his Press conference today. · The House of Lords question will be put by Lord Ammon, a Labour Party Peer, who declares that the Dean's statements are "liable to create illfeeling with other nations and bring the established church into contempt and disrepute."

The Dean's statements later orew a comment irom a roreigi Office official spokesman,

He said, "It has been repeatedly stated by members of the British Government that we are satisfied there is no truth whatsoever in the disgraceful and fraudulent accusations that have been made in Communist propaganda- about the use of germ warfare by the United Nations Command in Korea.

"This is still our opinion and is interesting to note that the Communists have turned down three times our offer of . an impartial investigation into these charges, on the last occasion by yet another Soviet veto in the Security Council." -

Strong Rally In American, Warkets European

London, July 8. Sterling today suddenly turned strong against both the United States and Canadian dollars. Sterling was in demand and dollars were offered in both European and North American markets.

Against the United States dollar, Sterling at the week-end was down to barely above its lower limit of $2.78. Today it jumped well above 2.79.

Against the Canadian dollar jumped from the low marks 2.075 last Friday and Saturday to 2.70 today.

The premium of the Canadian dollar over the United States dollar fell to less than 3½ cents. This is still abnormally high, but it compares with a premium of more than four cents at one

Various dealers and experts suggested the following reasons for this rally in Sterling: 1. A natural recovery from the overdone fail of last weekend and from the pessimism after Mr Churchill's speech last month, in which he said that Britain was economically on a "treacherous trap door." 2. "Covering" by speculators. On the theory that if anything were going to happen to Sterling it would happen at the weekend, speculators tend to sell late in the week. They have to buy back early in the next week when nothing has happened. . . .: 3. Reaction from some exaggerated ideas of last week. Some of last week's boosting arguments. for the Canadian dollar, for example; were fully justified. Some others were prepisierous.

Sound Defence For Good Results

By OSWALD JACOBY

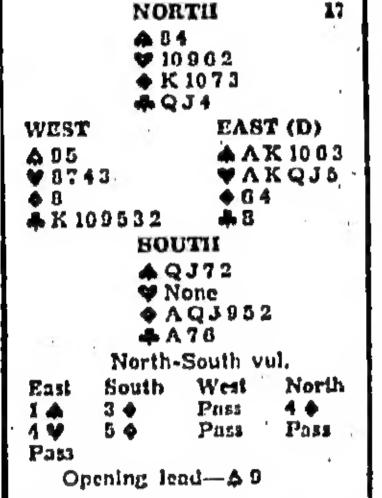

you defend by general do well on most hands. The familiar rules usually work. It's usually right to lead through strength, up to weakness; or to play second hand low but third hand high; and so on.

One of the rules that most defenders follow is; "Don't lead a sult that dunimy can trump." This is a sound rule most of the time because declarer has to lead that suit himself, and there's no advantage for the defenders in doing declarer's work for him. The hand shown today illustrates an important exception to the ruse. You must sometimes lead a suit that dummy can trump-when your purpose is to kill one of declarer. When the hand was actually played. West opened the nine of spades, and East won with the king. He cashed the ace of spades and then hopefully led his singleton club.

This was not an effective defence. South stopped up with the see of clubs, drew two rounds of trumps, and then discarded two clubs from dummy on the queen and jack of spades. This enabled him to ruff his with freekles? Why are my tables low clubs in dummy, making his contract.

After East had wen two spade tricks, he knew for should have known) that South had the queen and jack, West's opening lead had been his highest sonde, and since

West had led the nine, the higher spades were bound to be in the South At the third trick East should have led another spade. West would over-ruff. This play would kill one of declarer's spede tricks, so that he could later diseard only one club from dummy. He would therefore have to lese a club trick sooner, or

There was no need for East lead clubs or to try to cash a high heart. If declarer had a losing heart, he could do nothing with it: East would win it eventually, declarer had a losing club, however, the way to make sure of the defensive club trick was to kill a spade Lytham, Lancashire, July 8. A great international battle for the British Open Golf Championship is foreshadowed by the performances in the 36 holes qualifying Test which ended on the Royal Lytham and St. Anne's and Fairhaven courses today.

LACK OF GROUNDS

the limited funds available, it has been extremely difficult for the general committees of the different business house sports associations to keep things going and to offer their members facilities for all forms of sport owing to the lack of recreation grounds and swimming pools.

With a view to solving the difficulties ahead, the General Sports Association and Royal discuss mutual problems.

Being convinced that much can be done in the interest of business house sports associations in Hongkong if a representative council could be esinblished, an appeal is being made to the General Commitlitees of all business house sports associations for their co-operation and assistance.

It is intended to call a meeting of representatives to discuss the question in the near. future and secretaries of associations in favour of the plan are requested to contact Mr. H. van Echten c/o Royal Inter. Ocean Lines or Mr J. Strachan c/o Dairy Farm before July 20, to G. Souza 6-23,

WEST GERWAN PROBLEW Effect Of Rearmament On The Economy

Dollar Reserve With New Situation In PI At A Dangerous Low

Manila, July 8. The Central Bank Governor, Miguel Cuaderno, assured Philippines Congreasmen today that shortages in essential foods and commodities although he has been forced to cut foreign exchange allocations by $30,000,000 for the tast half of the year.

Mr Cuaderno was summoned before the House Commerce and Industry Committee to hear protests by Congressmen over the sharp slash in dollars allocated for purchases abroad. Mr Cuaderno told the Congressmen that the slash could not be avoided reached the dangerous low of $204,000,000 compared with $353,000,000 a year ago.-Associated Press.

Bonn Government Faced

London. In recent weeks people in Western Germany have begun to realise that the military, as well as the political, situation has changed for them in that they have now to rely more upon themselves for defence, and the sinews of defence, against any aggression from the East.

The agreements concluded at Bonn granting freedom from restriction from the military allied occupation have quickly shown that this freedom is going to create obligations which, hitherto, have been known but kept well in the background.

To these military and political uncertainties must now be added the economic position, says the Liverpool Journal of Commerce.

The West German deutscheest" of the hard currencles, Lack of the need to re-arm herself contributed more than a little to this happy state of affairs, her business leaders, her manufacturers and her exporters have frankly admitted, this to be so. Even her bankers have oot hesitated to be candid about the advantages West Germany has had in international ande, just as now they do not hesitate to paint the future prospect in any-

Lspionage Protest

London, July 8. Bulgaria today sent to the United Nations, to be passed on to Greece, two protests against alleged Greek espionage in Bulgaria and the kidnapping of two Bulgarian frontier guards last September, a Bulgarian news agency message received here reported. Both protests and Americans were directing or inking part in the alleged activities.

The second one said it gave "now evidence of the fact that Greece is being converted into a centre of large-scale divera centre of large-scale diver-Bulgaria."

The first protest said the Greek authorities had set up two camps in which former Bulgarian war criminals and collaborators of the "old fascist regime" were being trained by American instructors and then sent back to Bulgaria on behalf of the Greek and American intelligence services.

The second charged that the Bulgarian frontier guards, who were said to have been kidnapped by Greek frontier guards on Bulgarian territory, had been medically examined by three Americans and enlisted in the "European Army" in Greece last January. They were returned to Bulgaria after strong Bulgarian representations last May, the protest added.

Bulgaria asked that these "facts" be put before the United Nations.—Router.
